AMANDA PRICE GAINS ACCREDITED RESIDENTIAL MANAGER DESIGNATION THROUGH INSTITUTE OF REAL ESTATE MANAGEMENT

[AUGUSTA, GA] (February 3, 2020)- Amanda Price, Property Manager for Sherman and Hemstreet, gains designation of Accredited Residential Manager through the Institute of Real Estate Management (IREM). ARM is a steppingstone for newer property managers to advance their knowledge in the property management profession, and to start the process of becoming a Certified Property Manager (CPM), which is the premier property management certification world-wide.

When asked about why Price chose to pursue this designation she said, “I chose to pursue this certification because I wanted to take my career to the next level and gain additional knowledge that I can share with my team to ensure that we are offering the best of services to our clients. It was an amazing opportunity to connect with other members of the profession, and I now have relationships with colleagues across the nation. This process was a bit different due to COVID-19, but actually allowed me the opportunity to connect with others outside of our Atlanta IREM chapter as my class was through Zoom based out of the New York IREM chapter. It was very interesting to see how the circumstances were affecting our profession in different regions of the country, and now I have friends from New York to Chicago.”
